
This course is open to anyone with an interest in sacred music, but will be most useful to all those involved in parish liturgies.

These workshops tackle both the principles of sacred music and the practical application of authentic sacred music through lectures, seminars and singing sessions.

BENEDICT^{XVI}
Institute for New Evangelization

Inspired by the life and work of Pope Benedict XVI, the Benedict XVI Institute is the outreach arm of Newman Theological College. We serve the New Evangelization by offering innovative programs in faith formation and catechesis.

Newman Theological College

10012 - 84 Street NW Edmonton, AB T6A 0B2

Roderick Bryce, Fellow of the BXVI Institute
Roderick.Bryce@caedm.ca

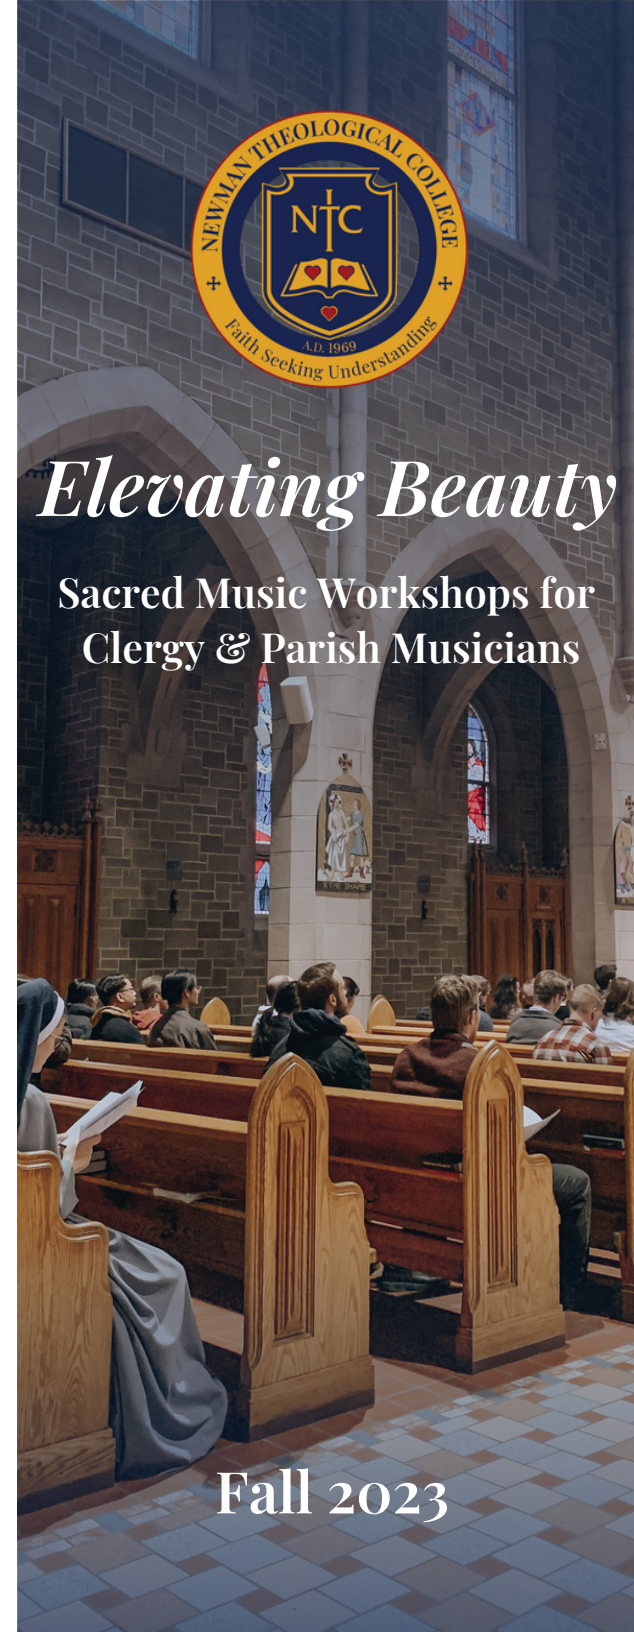

Teresa Jarvis, Admin. Assitant and Events Coordinator
Teresa.Jarvis@newman.edu

BXVI.Newman.edu

Elevating Beauty

Sacred Music Workshops for
Clergy & Parish Musicians

Fall 2023

Outcomes

- 1. We will be studying the theological function of liturgical music, both practical and pastoral.
- 2. An introduction to the Church's repertoire of Gregorian and vernacular chant, its notation and the necessary skills of chant performance.
- 3. Gain an intimate knowledge of sacred music that will enable participants to help others in their own community develop this crucial element of liturgical participation.

The workshops are led by Roderick Bryce; Director of Music, St Joseph's Cathedral-Basilica and faculty member of NTC

Schedule

Sept. 30

Sung Theology: Sanctification Through Glorification

Nov. 4

Are We Singing from the Same Hymn Sheet?

Dec. 2

Sacred Music for the Next Millennium

8:30am - Registration

9:00am - Session 1

10:15am - Break

10:35am - Session 2

11:45am - Midday prayer

12:00pm - Lunch (provided)

1:00pm - Session 3

2:10pm - Break

2:30pm - Session 4

3:40pm - Afternoon Prayer

4:00pm - Conclusion

After the workshops conclude, you are invited to attend Adoremus, an evening of Sung Vespers and Adoration at Saint Joseph's Basilica beginning at 7:00pm.

Costs and logistics

These workshops are offered through the Benedict XVI Institute, and will be held at Newman Theological College.

Cost for three workshops: $150

(Workshops not available separately)

Books and resources will be provided

($75 worth of materials are provided in the registration fee)

Lunch provided

Limited spots

Full Cardinal Newman Scholarship is available for those with financial need.

To register email Teresa Jarvis at Teresa.Jarvis@Newman.edu